Bluegrass Digital, a London-based digital production agency with hubs in Cape Town and Johannesburg, is now a certified solution partner for Sitecore, a respected customer experience management platform that has been named a Leader in Gartner's 2013 Web CMS Magic Quadrant for the fourth consecutive year.

Sitecore expertly uses digital marketing and automation tools, including analytics, testing, email and personalisation that enables you to build customers for life through their Experience Platform. Sitecore's customer Engagement Platform provides a highly integrated and powerful solution that can easily deploy digital commerce functions from the Sitecore toolset and create a customised experience for buyers.

"We are excited about the new Sitecore partnership. It provides us with the ability to meet the needs of clients that are looking for a more powerful platform with built-in intelligence to drive online user experience to another level. As implementation specialists in enterprise web content management, it also allows us to support our worldwide partners in delivering Sitecore-based solutions. The level integration and customisation is remarkable and this is attributed to the flexibility of the .NET architecture," says Bluegrass Digital MD, Nick Durrant.

"We want to welcome our new South African partner Bluegrass Digital to our partner network," said Soren Bak Jepsen, President, Sitecore International. "We are very much looking forward to collaborating with them on different projects and to expanding this emerging market. We see a great potential in South Africa, and we know that Bluegrass Digital will help to position Sitecore's powerful mix of marketing and business features. We are giving our partner the utmost confidence as we work, together, to deliver exceptional results for our clients. In this new wave of technology-driven business, you're only as strong as your partnerships."
