

APO Group names Fathima Ebrahim as VP media relations

The APO Group has appointed Fathima Ebrahim as vice president of media relations. Ebrahim will oversee client delivery and assist with business development in her role.

She joins the group from Weber Shandwick, where she served as senior vice president. She was also previously the group account director at Edelman.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>