

Classifieds site revamped for enhanced usability

One of the key features of the newly relaunched Junk Mail site is the ability to upload pictures online for free, which significantly increases the user's likelihood of selling. Visitors also no longer have to subscribe in order to enter www.junkmail.co.za and non-subscribers are now able to preview adverts for free. A mobile billing option simplifies the subscription process and provides those without credit cards with the opportunity to subscribe and make use of the site.
