

New website to inspire youth

Two content producers, Chuma Kave and Ntosh Ntlokwana, have created a new website, New Uprising to encourage youth with advice from entrepreneurship, relationships, inspiration, leadership and living to the best of one's potential.

It includes Wendy Luhabe talking about how she discovered her strength to be the successful businessperson and social entrepreneur, television presenter and model Boity Thulo talking about the books that shaped her life and controversial painter Ayanda Mabulu declaring, "I paint what I like."
