

Knowledge Factory hires Jordache Frankie

Knowledge Factory has appointed Jordache Frankie as its commercial manager within its sales and business development unit. Frankie will head up all commercial activities at Knowledge Factory including oversight of all key accounts in an effort to strengthen customer relationships and explore new business opportunities.

Frankie will work closely with the management team to define and execute against organic and inorganic growth strategies as well as looking at potential M&A initiatives that will yield rapid expansion for Knowledge Factory in the short to medium term.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>