

Apple Music introduces iOS feature for artists called Shareable Milestones

Apple Music has released a new iOS feature called Shareable Milestones that allows artists to easily share their artwork with their fans via social media to celebrate their Apple Music milestones.

Shareable Milestones automatically generates milestones for artists of all sizes to highlight on social media, providing an easy way for artists to share important moments in their careers with their fans. Milestones include new highs and all-time bests in plays and Shazams, as well as inclusion in playlists curated by Apple Music.
