

Development Works scoops research contract on the creative industries

Creative Consulting and Development Works, a Cape Town-based research and communications agency, has been awarded the contract by the provincial government to conduct research on the creative industries as an economic sector.

The creative industries, if considering the UK classification, include the performing arts, advertising, architecture, design, art and crafts, fashion, film and video, music, publishing, TV and radio, software and computer services.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>