

CMCO SA appoints new executive of business development

Materials handling company CMCO South Africa has appointed Lebo Sephoti as executive of business development. She started her career with an ND engineering metallurgy (physical) and a B.tech degree in business administration and followed with an MBA. Sephoti has been tasked with driving new growth strategies in South Africa as well as the rest of Africa.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>