

magazine editor and art direction

is editor also expert on design and layout im just wondering from all u mag people. are editors suppose to master art direction? how does it work? do they have to visualise the entire mag and tell the art director what to do and how to do it or are they just focused on the CONTENT and art director and their team of designers are responsible for making the mag glossy??? pls advice.

Forum created by Lucy L

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>