

The art of the brick

Internationally renowned Australian Lego artist Nathan Sawaya created a large installation art piece, measuring about two metres high, at the Design Indaba conference, 29 February-2 March 2012. He demonstrated the collective power of great design as part of Absa's campaign for the 2012 Design Indaba.

The final piece was on display at the Design Indaba Expo 2-4 March.

This was his first visit to South Africa (and Africa as a whole), as well as being the first time he built an art piece live in just three days.
