

DuPont Sub-Saharan Africa appoints new president

DuPont Sub-Saharan Africa is pleased to announce the appointment of its new president, Dr Richard Okine. Okine has been with DuPont for over 33 years with a broad range of functional experiences and has contributed significantly to technology and new business, development across various organisations and businesses over that time.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>