

AfricaCom 2007

The AfricaCom expo, the two-day pan-African event for telecoms professionals held at the Cape Town International Convention Centre, wrapped up yesterday, 22 November. The event featured a range of products, from the latest cellphone handsets and wireless modems, to mobile software and advertising solutions. The expo is produced by Informa Telecoms & Media; and is only one of 12 events forming part of the Com World Series which travels throughout Africa, the Middle East, Europe and Asia, with functions in Australia and South America as well.
