

24/7 Pan African TV channel coming soon

Journalism.co.za reports that a proposed 24-hour Pan African television channel, to be known as A-24, could be set up by next year. Kenyan-based company Camerapix says it will follow the format of pan-Arabic television channel, Al-Jazeera, and is intended to counter Western negative publicity of Africa. For more, click here.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>