

The Goodlife Network Switches on on World Aids Day

The launch of health and lifestyle channel, The Good Life Network (GLN), on DStv channel 199 at a Switch On event in Melrose Arch, Johannesburg.

The launch of South Africa's first dedicated health and lifestyle channel was led by Deputy President Cyril Ramaphosa (in his capacity as chair of the South African National Aids Council) and minister of health Dr Aaron Motsoaledi. This new innovation is the brainchild of the Soul City Institute and Ochre Media. The initiative is supported by Times Media Group and the National Department of Health.
