

A+E Networks expands Joburg office with three new appointments

A+E Networks has made several new appointments at its office in Johannesburg. Nazarene Khan has been appointed as the head of marketing and sponsorship: Africa and will be focusing on marketing, digital and communications for Lifetime, HISTORY and Crime + Investigation across the continent.

With her extensive marketing background in broadcasting, Anita Gardini has been appointed as the new marketing executive. Given his expertise in brand management, digital marketing, stakeholder communications and operational marketing, Justice Tshabalala has been named A+E Networks' social media coordinator.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>